Conference Highlights

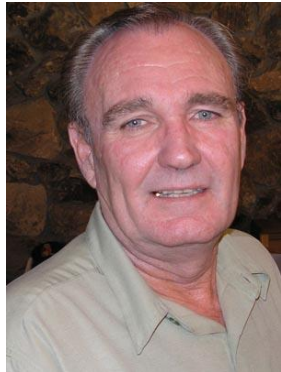

Missionaries and family, some serving for over 40 years and couples in the process of becoming missionaries, met together for four wonderful days of worshipping God, sitting at the feet of pastors and teachers of the Word, being challenged by reports from different fields, and just hanging out together. Why did this happen? CinA held its biennial conference in Woodlake, California. Missionaries from Guatemala; Okinawa, Japan; Honduras; Colombia; S. India; Germany; UK and Canada came together.

These pictures will give you the “taste of heaven” that happens when believers gather.

“When I was a student, studying Greek at night, I would turn on KGER radio and hear the voice of Lee Shelley (founder of CinA) reporting about going out to knock on doors. That challenged me! I thank God for Lee Shelley and the vision he had for Christians in Action.” Dr. Ken Royer of Link Care Center, Conference speaker with Leonard Rosenfeld..

Gordon, Byron and I had lunch one day and Byron said, “We need to plant 60 churches in Colombia, and you need to do it!”

“One regret I have is that I didn’t plant enough churches in Brazil. God told me, 'I’m not finished with you yet!' God has a new thing for CinA.” Bob Spencer, Latin America Director.
